The RHTargetMarket tool (the “Tool”) is a web-based online market research tool made available to you for informational purposes only. PATH is providing the Tool as the secretariat of, and acting on behalf of, the Reproductive Health Supplies Coalition (“RHSC”). PATH is an international nonprofit organization that transforms global health through innovation and is a charitable nonprofit corporation under the laws of Washington State, USA. RHSC’s mission is to bring together a diversity of partners and mobilize their collective strengths to increase access to a full range of affordable, quality reproductive health supplies in low- and middle-income countries and is based in Brussels, Belgium.

By registering for or logging in to use the Tool, you agree to comply with and be bound by the these terms and conditions (the “Tool License”) and the PATH Terms of Use, which together constitute an agreement between you and PATH (the “Agreement”) and govern your access to and use of the Tool. Solely to the extent of an inconsistency between the Tool License and the PATH Terms of Use, the Tool License shall control but only as to your access and use of the Tool. If you disagree with any part of the Agreement, or if the jurisdiction in which you are located does not recognize any of the terms of the Agreement, then you are not authorized to use the Tool and must not access or use it. The Agreement may be amended from time to time and using the Tool after the changes are effective means that you agree to the updates to the Agreement. If you don’t agree with the Agreement as amended, you must stop using the Tool and close your account.

Your Account: You agree not to use any false, inaccurate or misleading information when you register to use the Tool by creating a user account. If you create the user account on behalf of an entity, such as your business or employer, you represent that you have the legal authority to bind that entity to the Agreement. You cannot transfer your account to another user or entity. To protect your account, keep your account details and password confidential. You are responsible for all activity that occurs under your account. You must use your account to keep it active. This means you must sign in at least once in a five-year period to keep your account, and access to the Tool, active. If you don’t log in during this time, we will assume your account is inactive and will close it for you. If we reasonably suspect that your account is being used by a third party fraudulently (for example, as a result of an account compromise), we may suspend your account until you can reclaim ownership. If you are having trouble accessing your account, please see the RHTargetMarket Tool User Guide. You can cancel your account at any time and for any reason. To close your account, please review the instructions in the RHTargetMarket Tool User Guide. When you ask us to close your account, we will put it in a suspended state for 60 days just in case you change your mind. After that 60 day period, your account will be closed. Logging back in during that 60 day period will reactivate your account. If your account is closed (whether by you or us), your right to use the Tool stops immediately, and we will delete Your Content (as defined below). You should make back-up copies of Your Content regularly; we won’t be able to retrieve Your Content after your account is closed.

Your Data: PATH receives data that you provide when you register to use the Tool (which includes personal information) and that is recorded from your interactions with the Tool, including cookies and receiving error reports or usage data. PATH uses the data that we collect to provide the Tool, including using the data to improve the Tool, and to communicate with you, including informing you about your account, Tool updates and other related information. PATH may share the data with third parties working on PATH’s behalf for the same purposes. You may view or edit your information by accessing your user account for the Tool.

Your Content: The Tool may allow you to store and/or share information that you compile with the Tool (“Your Content”). When you share Your Content with other parties, you agree that they may be able to, on a worldwide basis, use, save, record, reproduce, transmit, and display Your Content without compensating you. If you do not want other parties to have the ability to do any of those activities, do not use the Tool to share Your Content. PATH is not responsible for Your Content and may remove it at any time. You grant PATH a non-exclusive, perpetual, worldwide and royalty-free license to use Your Content to provide, protect and improve the Tool.
Tool Availability: The Tool may be unavailable from time to time or may be available only for a limited time. While we will try to maintain the availability of the Tool, web-based tools are subject to service interruptions and outages, and we are not liable for any disruption or loss that you may suffer as a result. If there is an outage, you may not be able to retrieve Your Content. We recommend that you make copies of Your Content regularly.

Tool Updates: We may change the Tool from time to time. We are not obligated to provide or maintain any particular features or functionality.

Use Rights: If you comply with the Agreement, you may use the Tool in accordance with the functionality made available in the Tool and the associated instructions solely for your own internal business operations, excluding any revenue-generating activities. For example, you may not use it for, or provide information from the Tool to, third parties in exchange for a fee or any other consideration.

Use Restrictions: The Tool is licensed, not sold, and PATH reserves all rights to the Tool not expressly granted by PATH, whether by implication, estoppel, or otherwise. You may not: (i) circumvent any restrictions on access to, use of, or availability of the Tool, (ii) disassemble, decompile, decrypt, emulate or reverse engineer any aspect of the Tool, except and only to the extent permitted by applicable copyright law, (iii) publish, copy, rent, lease, sell, distribute or lend the Tool, (iv) transfer, or otherwise enable unauthorized, access to or use of the Tool, or (v) use the Tool in any unauthorized manner, including any manner that would interfere with others’ access to or use of the Tool.

Warranty Disclaimer: The Tool is provided AS-IS, with all faults and as available, without any warranty, express or implied, guarantees or conditions. You agree that use of the Tool is entirely at your own risk. PATH does not guarantee the accuracy or timeliness of the information available from the Tool. You acknowledge that computers, software and networks are not fault-free and occasional periods of downtime occur. PATH does not guarantee the Tool will be uninterrupted, secure, or that content loss won’t occur. PATH excludes any implied warranties, including for merchantability, satisfactory quality, fitness for a particular purpose, workmanlike effort and non-infringement.

Limitation of Liability: You agree that your exclusive remedy for any basis of recovery from PATH or any affiliates or third party providers or vendors for damages related to the Tool is limited to direct damages up to $10.00 USD in aggregate. You cannot recover any other damages or losses, including without limitation, lost profits or consequential, special, indirect, incidental, or punitive damages. These limitations and exclusions apply even if this remedy doesn’t fully compensate you for any losses or fails of its essential purpose or if we knew or should have known about the possibility of the damages. These limitations and exclusions apply to any claim related to the Tool or the Agreement to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Compliance: Use of the Tool, including information that it provides, is subject to US and other jurisdictions’ export and technology laws and you agree to comply with all such applicable laws and regulations, including US export laws and regulations (please see the US Export Administration Regulations for further information).
